

For those who find themselves frequently on the road, deciding on a lodging choice should be carefully thought out. Depending on whether you're traveling for business or pleasure, you need to decide if an apartment or hotel is best for you.

For the single traveler, a simple room is usually preferred, nothing fancy or too big. There are plenty of cheap motels and hotels in Ho Chi Minh City which offer a room at a reasonable price. And if you're just looking for a place to lay your head at night, the hotel would be the perfect choice. The hotel also offers a few perks that can be nice, such as a pool, hot tub, restaurant or bar. Even the lone traveler needs some time to relax and unwind after a long day on the road, so you should never rule out these bonus features.

For the traveling family, it could be argued that an apartment or hotel has advantages and disadvantages. A hotel room can become pretty small when you start adding a few children to the party. And if the hotel room is the standard kind with two beds and a TV, things could certainly become uncomfortable. Everyone's tripping over each other, and the suitcases and clothing can turn the room into a big mess in no time. Not to mention five or six people sharing one bathroom, things can get rather ugly in this type of situation.

For the family, an apartment rental or hotel suite is probably the better choice. Though the price can be somewhat higher than that of a regular hotel room, an apartment or suite could give a family a lot more room, not to mention a full kitchen, an extra bedroom and a second bathroom. For some people, having a kitchen to cook your own meals in can save a lot of money compared to going out to eat for every meal. So even though the bigger room costs more, it all evens out in the end. The other benefit of an apartment or suite, is that there are usually two TV's, which really comes in handy when the kids want to watch cartoons, and Mom and Dad need a good comedy to laugh their cares away. Many hotel chains now offer membership plans, which can save you money in the long run, by earning a free night's stay or other perks with the membership. Another way to save money when traveling, is to check out some of the great travel websites that offer last minute deals, and discount rates for hotels. If you're one of those people that simply must get a great deal whenever they travel, then a hotel would be the better choice for you, since apartments don't usually offer any deals.

Make sure for your next upcoming trip, you take the time to weigh all these options, and decide exactly what it is you're looking for in a hotel or apartment. Do you want to sleep cheap? Do you need a kitchen or an extra bathroom or bedroom? Make your plans wisely, to ensure the best vacation ever!
